Jefferson Union High School Holds Commencement Program Wednesday Evening, February 9, Beginning At 8 O'Clock

Two Trustees Will Confer Diplomas

Principal James Ferguson will present the class of February, 1944, at commencement exercises in the Jefferson Union high school auditorium, Wednesday evening, February 9. Diplomas are to be conferred on the capped and gowned seniors by Remi Sanders and Mrs. Stella Jensen, of the high school board of trustees.

The program will open at 8 p. m. at which time parents and friends will view the entire class seated on the stage, the girls in white, wearing red flowers, and the boys in black.

Music will be furnished by the chorus and band under the direction of Oscar Busch. A "Recessional," verse by Kipling, music by De Koven, will be sung by the chorus with the solo part rendered by Ken Hatt. Another outstanding selection will be the "Coronation March" by Meyerbeer, played by the band at the close of the program.

Talks will be made by four student speakers, Marie Smith, Bianca Ratto, Donald Nelson, and Albert Chelone.

High seniors who are candidates for graduation, next Wednesday evening, include: Rudolph Beaver, Angie Bernardi, Katherine Borg, Roy Camillo, Dolores Caserza, Albert Chelone, Tim Christen, Frank Coen, Helen Dunn, Student speakers for the February class of '44 at Jefferson Union high school have announced their topics for the commencement exercises to be held, Wednesday evening, February 9.

Top row, Bianca Ratto will discuss, "The Nation Calls Its Young Men to the Colors," and Albert Chelone, "Farewell to Jefferson Union High School."

Bottom row, Donald Nelson, "The Nation Returns Its Young Men to Civilian Life," and Marie Smith, "Welcome to Parents and Friends."

Servicemen's Club Arranges For Dance

Next big social event at the Daly City Servicemen's club, 6201 Mission street, will be a Valentine dance. Plans are not completed for this event and date for the affair will be announced next week.

This week, Vista Grande Camp No. 6035, Royal Neighbors of America, is hostess organization. Next week, Woodrow Wilson P. T. A. takes over, followed by the Ladies Auxiliary to Company No. 1, D. C. F. D., for the dates, February 13 through February 19.

"La Conga" night, last Saturday, January 29, proved highly successful. The center had been transformed into a veritable "bit of old Spain" for the occasion, with shawls, hats, and decorations to lend authenticity.

To Observe Red Cross Sunday On February 27

According to the San Mateo County chapter, February 27 will be observed by the American Red Cross as Red Cross Sunday. The clergy has been asked to bring the date to the attention of their congregations.

Newspapers have pledged their support to the Red Cross, which will begin its War Fund drive, March 1.

Now, About That License Renewal - -

Motor vehicle owners of Daly City have only until midnight tomorrow, February 4, to apply for 1944 registration renewal without payment of stiff penalties.

Applications may be filed in person at any branch office of the Department of Motor Vehicles or California Highway Patrol up to the close of business hours, tomorrow.

Applications forwarded by mail will be accepted without penalty if the envelope shows a postmark prior to midnight, February 4.

The penalties required by the Vehicle Code are equal to 100 per cent of the registration fee and 50 per cent of the vehicle license fee.

The 1943 Registration Card must be presented or mailed with the fee and must show the present address of the applicant.

Persons forwarding applications by mail should use postal or bank money orders or certified checks.

IT'S A LONG WAY YET TO DALY CITY'S GOAL OF $140 000 IN BONDS

Decorate Children's Room At D. C. Library

Lace-trimmed hearts, huge red ribbon bows, and brightly colored posters announce that Valentine's Day is near, in the children's room of the Daly City Public library, 6351 Mission street.

In January 2,428 books were issued according to statistics compiled by Mrs. Jean O'Rourk, head librarian. This is an increase of several hundred over the December figures.

Pre-Induction Physicals For 110

Daly City Draft Board No. 103 is preparing to mail notices of pre-induction physical examinations to 110 men in this area, according to Mrs. Isabelle Flynn, chief clerk. The physical exams are slated for Monday, February 21. This will be the first large group sent by the local board under the new system. A small number of men were examined in January under the plan.

No registrant was to be inducted after February 1 until he had passed a thorough physical examination by Army-Navy doctors at least 21 days previously. Under the old system the exam was given at induction. Pre-induction physicals were ordered by Congress.

After the pre-induction physicals, the men are to be notified by the local board whether or not they qualified. The men taking the examinations will not necessarily be all 1-A but any in 3-A or other groups who are subject to reclassification to 1-A, Mrs. Flynn explained.

No February call for men to enter the armed forces has been sent to the local board from State Selective Service headquarters as yet. Mrs. Flynn said that this was probably because time must be allowed to get the new system into operation, since registrants who take the pre-induction physicals

War Council Will Study Safety

The Daly City Civilian War Council will meet, this evening, at 8 o'clock in the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue. All members are urged to be present.

Under discussion will be a recent request from the office of the State Director of Civilian Defense that local war councils lend their support in an accident prevention campaign.

The bulletin from state headquarters pointed out that general carelessness is doing better for the Axis in the United States than the best enemy field marshals and admirals in battle. Here

Both Post Office, Schools Show Gain

Daly City, in its third week of the Fourth War Loan drive, has a lot of bond buying to do before the goal of $140,000 is reached, a survey of how the sale of government securities is going at the local banks, post office, schools, and theatre shows.

F. Erickson, manager, reports that Standard Oil of California purchased $4,000 in War Bonds at the Daly City branch, Bank of America, giving sales there a shot in the arm. The Daly City post office, 6251 Mission street, stated that a noticeable improvement in daily sales could be noted at their office since the Fourth War Loan began, January 18.

At the Daly City theatre, the Daly City Fire department and its ladies' auxiliaries have the Bond Booth, this week, and local people are urged to patronize it to help push Daly City over the top in this funds raising campaign. Henry Combe, manager, reminded the public that bonds bought at the local theatre entitle each purchaser to a free ticket to the Bond Premiere at the El Rey theatre, February 9.

During the period, January 25 through January 31, El Carmelo Parlor No. 181, Native Daughters of the Golden West, had the Bond Booth.

At the schools of the Jefferson Elementary School district, Superintendent R. L. Crane jr. reports an upsurge in bond and stamp sales, too. In January the youngsters purchased over $3,100 worth.

At Jefferson Union high school a total of $29,769.10 was sold during January and the school won the Treasury department's flag for 96 per cent participation. The boy-girl competition, started after January was under way, saw the girls sell $5,808.70 and the boys, $23,446.50. From September, 1943, the school has sold $64,552.60 in bonds and stamps.

Students who have rung up reputations as good bond salesmen in the current campaign include Jack Ferro, Bud Fellows, Herb McDaniel, Ben Picetti, Harry Kent, Howard Fletcher, Jack Dyer, Peter Ramer, Richard Svani, Eva Claus, Roberta Romer, Eloise Harrison, Verna Moresco, Virginia Pendola, Winnie Grant, Louise Terry, Peggy Hanley, Patsy Snee, and Lorraine Sanders.

A stirring appeal to Americans everywhere to contribute "fighting dollars" to the Fourth War Loan has been broadcast through the War Finance committee from Admiral Chester Nimitz, supreme commander in chief of the Pacific fleet. His plea follows:

"In the Pacific the tempo of our war against Japan is quickening day by day. Its character has changed from the individual and unrelated actions of early days to closely coordinated power

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Private First Class Ottavio A. Tolovi, Daly City, has been promoted to corporal technician at Camp Beale, California.

Corporal Tolovi is the son of Mrs. Amelia Tolovi of 41 Theta avenue.

Peter Conci, well-known Daly City man, is now in the U. S. Navy. He left for "boot camp" at Farragut, Idaho, in January, where he is stationed at Camp Bennion. Before leaving for service with the armed forces he made his home at 169 Parkview avenue.

Private John R. "Jack" Eason, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Eason, 924 Hanover street, and a graduate of local schools, has been on overseas duty since the latter part of October. His letters cannot reveal his exact location but he's in the South Pacific where things are far from quiet. Eason is with an anti-tank company.

Before Eason left for overseas he was at Camp Beale, California, where he won five medals as an expert in gunnery, light machine, heavy machine, sub machine, rifle, and sharpshooter. Before entering the service he was employed as a welder, following his graduation from Jefferson Union high school in 1942.

The U. S. Navy Pre-Flight school at St. Mary's college, California, reports that another step in the pilot training of Naval Aviation Cadet Allen Bert Rigler, of Daly City, was completed, last week, with his graduation from the school as a member of the Thirty-seventh Battalion.

Cadet Rigler will next report to the Naval Air station at Norman, Oklahoma, to take his primary flight training.

In his graduation from St. Mary's Pre-Flight, Cadet Rigler participated in a regimental review that was received by Captain Rudolph L. Johnson, now commanding officer of a warship and formerly closely connected with pilot training when he was skipper at the Livermore Naval Air station, and Commander Clyde W. King, Pre-Flight commanding officer.

At St. Mary's Pre-Flight, Cadet Rigler took an academic course that included celestial navigation, essentials of naval service, advanced aerology and advanced recognition of ships and planes. His military arts course included communications, seamanship, gunnery and first aid.

Pupils From Three Elementary Schools Of District To Receive Diplomas At Graduation Exercises, Tomorrow Night, Feb. 4

Promptly at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium, 6996 Mission street, tomorrow evening, February 4, graduation exercises for pupils having completed the eighth grade in schools of the Jefferson district will begin.

The program will include an opening selection by the orchestra; Advance the Colors, American Legion; Pledge of Allegiance, audience; "Star Spangled Banner, audience; the American Legion school awards to a boy and girl from each of the three schools, presented by Commander John Derungs, Daly City Post No. 410; trumpet solo, Jerry Danford; American Legion Auxiliary scholarship award, Mrs. Kathleen Matzek, president, Daly City Unit No. 410; clarinet trio, Herbert Fensin, Shirley Miller, Yvonne Hulme; Parent-Teacher association scholarship awards, Colma, Mrs. Fred Lane, Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Elsie Hesselein, Crocker, Mrs. Hazel Cassasa; accordion solo, Joe Albera; presentation of diplomas, R. L. Crane jr., superintendent; selection by the glee club; "America," audience.

Candidates who are scheduled to receive diplomas, tomorrow night, are:

Lack, Ruth A. Mangodt, Louis Maravelias jr., Elisa Marie Paradiso, Ruben J. Preciado, Betty Jean Preston, Eleanor Clara Quickert, Ann Robertson, Monte J. Robinson, Beverly M. Rowe, Marie Sharp, Frank Torkelson jr., Janet Warren, Jim Watso.

Jefferson — Cecelia Accinelli, Alvina Marie Feno, Renamae Feutrier, Jack Norman Ghio, Anna Mae Griffin, Eva Jean Griffin, James Earl Hamilton, Albert Lagomarsino, Robert J. Lazzerini, Lorraine Massoni, John Joseph McCaffrey, Angelina Z. Micheletti, Roy Andrew Ottoboni, Doris May Pardini, Frank Michael Sutter, Doris A. Vallerga, Clara Josephine Zanobini.

Woodrow Wilson—Lora Barghini, Robert Blassman, Gordon Cady, Jerry Danford, Herbert Fensin, Estelle Giomi, Bobbette Hudson, Yvonne Hulme, George McLeod, Leo Melani, Shirley Miller, Louise Mjehovich, Beatrice Moran, Janet Petersen, Ray Rasmussen, Robert Thompson.

Admission to the graduation exercises is by invitation only.

There's No Villain In Photoplay At D. C. Theatre

"Princess O'Rourke," the Daly City theatre's current attraction, is a photoplay without a villain—at least, the villain never materializes. He's an abstraction. That's the way Director Norman Krasna explains it, and he ought to know. He wrote the screenplay.

"It's this way," said Krasna. "Olivia de Havilland is a royal princess, an exile from her kingdom. Robert Cummings is a young American pilot. They are in love and are about to be married, when Cummings is confronted with the problems of being a prince consort. It means, among other things, that he will have to give up his American citizenship.

"So he balks at the marriage and Olivia blows up. That's where the trouble comes in. You can see that the villainy stems not from a person or a thing, but from a situation."

Krasna doesn't believe in movie villains.

None of his recent screenplays has employed the services of an evil-doer. In "The Devil and Miss Jones," one of his most successful films, there was nary a "heavy." Nor was there in "Bachelor Mother."

"In the first place," Krasna said, "sinister screen characters are likely to be phoney. Not because they are so wicked, but because they really aren't wicked enough. The screen—at least the American screen—dares not be so realistic as to portray human villainy as it actually is. Nobody would believe it."

There are a few exceptions to this, Krasna admits. Mrs. Danvers in "Rebecca," he says, was an honest-to-goodness villain. So was Javert in "Les Miserables," and so were Conrad Veidt in "Escape" and Gene Lockhart in "Algiers."

Krasna, however, holds movie blackguards in deep admiration. "They are nearly always good actors," he said. "They have to be. And also they invariably incur the prejudice of the movie-going public, and they are easily typed.

"And another thing. You never heard of a villain winning an Academy Award, did you?"

"Princess O'Rourke" marks the first time Krasna has doubled up on his assignments—writing and directing. Miss de Havilland and Robert Cummings are co-starred in the production with Charles Coburn, Jack Carson and Jane Wyman heading the supporting cast.

ON SCREEN OF DALY CITY THEATRE

Olivia de Havilland, Robert Cummings, Jane Wyman and Jack Carson play leading roles in Warner Brothers' romantic comedy, "Princess O'Rourke," now at the Daly City theatre.

is the score since Pearl Harbor:

Killed and missing in battle	64,556
Killed by accident in U. S.	190,000
Wounded in battle	45,595
Injured in accidents in U. S.	18,500,000

With a total of 8,500,000 men in the armed forces and an over all loss in killed, wounded, missing and captured of 139,858, the ratio is 1 in 50.

In the United States with a population of 130,000,000 and an accident toll of 18,690,000 killed and injured, the ratio is 1 in 7.

According to National Safety Council the loss since Pearl Harbor amounts to 800,000,000 man days, enough to build 38,000 heavy bombers.

Policemen Help Break Up Riot At Restaurant

Friday night, January 28, just before midnight, Sergeant Ricco Benedetti and Officers August Benassini and George Savage helped the Shore Patrol break up a riot at San Pedro lunch, Colma. Three sailors, who had been refused drinks, were threatening to wreck the place.

On Monday, January 31, police investigated an accident at Wellington avenue and Mission street. Only property damage was involved. The cars were driven by James Joseph Joy, San Carlos, and George Widdie, San Francisco.

Fire Department Answer Two Alarms

Since Monday, January 24, two fires called out the local department. On January 25 at 2:17 p. m., Companies No. 1 and 6 responded to an alarm from the box at Mission and Price streets. They extinguished a fire in a machine at Daly City Auto Wreckers, 7200 Mission street.

On Tuesday morning, February 1, at 8:45 a. m. Companies No. 1 and 2, and Policemen George Hopman and George Savage, quickly put out a blaze which started in the basement at 170 Willits street.

Boy Scouts Find "Little Lost Girl"

It was all very melodramatic—up until the time that the "little lost girl" turned out to be Cub Billy Ritter dressed up to look the part!

To test how alert Scouts of Troop No. 141 would be in an emergency, Scoutmaster Straughan had an able helper, Claire Allen, break into a meeting of the troop at the church, Vista Grande and Santa Barbara avenues, Monday night, to report that a small girl whom she was taking care of was lost. The Scouts dashed to the rescue, completely fooled by Miss Allen's "poker face." Some 25 minutes later, Assistant Patrol Leader Ray Lagomarsino found the "little lost girl" and brought her carefully back to the church on his bicycle. Due to the darkness and the uncommunicative nature of the child it was only then that he learned his carefully treasured charge was the Cub from his own 141 group.

Other Scouts who assisted in the neighborhood search were Erick Durkins, Robert Sayko, Edward Smith, and Alfred Christensen.

War Housing Center Asks For Cooperation

During the month, the War Housing centers at Burlingame and Palo Alto tried to help 1463 applicants, 241 of whom were placed and 1222 were disappointed.

"As the war progresses, we receive more and more applications from men engaged in plane transportation and from members of the armed services. Among those whom we are trying to place is a veteran of the Flying Tigers who has several decorations and 64 oak leaf clusters. He was brought here to instruct new pilots and needs a home for himself, his wife, and his baby, born while he was fighting the Japanese," Louis Lengfeld, manager, stated.

"When servicemen are sent to this area, their wives realize it will be but a short time before they are sent overseas. The wives try to stay with their husbands until the last possible moment. One enlisted man is living in camp, his wife is sharing a room with a girl friend, and their child is boarded out. Another service family is living in a house where fifteen people share one bathroom. This can hardly be considered true California hospitality and we hope more of our citizens can make decent accommodations available for soldiers and sailors who apply at the War Housing center," Lengfeld concluded.

JUNIOR COLLEGE

San Mateo junior college completes its final examinations this week, with the fall semester ending Friday. The spring term opens with registration Monday, February 7, and class work starts the next day.

The opening of the new term will bring a number of new students to the college, including men and women interested in getting added training for present or future jobs. The college offers a number of day classes of special interest to adults, who can enroll for a full program of college subjects or in a short program of one or more classes. Commercial subjects, art classes, various sciences, photography, history, first aid, mechanics, and languages are only a few of the many subjects to be offered.

Mrs. Flynn announces that Pre-Pearl Harbor fathers who are in the employ of any of the government services may now apply for occupational deferment. They secure forms 42 and 42 Supplement, fill out, and send to Washington, D. C. If their request for deferment is approved the local board is notified to grant them a stay. Previously, no government employees at all were deferred but after boards began tapping Pre-Pearl Harbor fathers the obvious unfairness of this arrangement was corrected by granting government workers the same opportunity to apply for occupational deferment.

To a Machinist in this area

Ever see a locomotive driving rod or piston close up? Best steel there is. Same goes for other railroad equipment. And the men who keep 'em going are machinists who know their work's vital in this man's war. Now Southern Pacific has some swell openings for machinists at the S. P. shops. Top railroad jobs and as interesting as any you can name. (Railroading's that way. It gets in your blood.) Pay is good. Fine medical services. A real pension plan. If you want not any job, but a good job with a permanent company, look into this. We think you'll like working for S. P. Liberal age limits. Other good jobs open, too:

DON'T ASK SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD

Don't ask your Social Security Board field office for a statement of your 1943 earnings for income tax purposes, Edward J. Foley, manager of the San Mateo field office requested today.

The Social Security Board cannot help you because your employer's tax return will not have reached the board in time to permit it to make available a statement of your annual earnings for income tax returns.

Each year, "come income tax time," hundreds of wage earners request statements of their annual earnings for use in making out income tax returns, because they know that the Social Security board keeps careful records of wages paid to workers in jobs covered by the old-age and survivors insurance system. It is on the basis of these records that benefits are calculated for the insured worker or his family.

Wages paid during the last three months of 1943 were reported to the Collectors of Internal Revenue during January, 1944. During February and March these reports will be forwarded to the Baltimore offices of the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance. There the wage amounts will be recorded in the social security account maintained for each individual worker. This will not be completed until the end of June.

"More than 600,000 wage items are received each day in the Accounting Offices of the Social Security Board," Foley said, "so it is understandable why it will take until June 30 before the wages received during 1943 by the 47,000,000 persons who worked last year in jobs covered by old-age and survivors insurance are totalled for each individual. We are sorry—but when it comes to income tax returns, the Social Security board cannot be of help."

BOY SCOUT WEEK

Boy Scout Week which is to be celebrated, February 8 to 14, never had a greater significance. This grand organization, designed to train the youth of our land and of other nations in acquiring skill and self-reliance through wholesome outdoor activities and becoming better and more useful citizens, epitomizes the very principles for which the United Nations today are fighting.

It is most fitting that the Boy Scout movement had its inception in England—a nation which stood through the blackest hours of democracy's struggle against the forces of tyranny. There, in 1907, Lieutenant General Robert S. S. Baden-Powell, later Lord Baden-Powell, operated the first Boy Scout troop with 20 scouts and himself as scoutmaster.

It is not surprising that one of the early acts of totalitarian governments was the suppression of the Boy Scouts. Such governments could not stand for a teaching which opposes discrimination by reason of class, color, race or creed.

In its more than thirty years existence in the United States, the Boy Scout organization has been a powerful factor in building better Americans and thereby building a better America. It is this continuing service to democracy which America honors in Boy Scout Week.

WAS IT YOURS?

Youngsters get a thrill out of watching a paper box burn on a bonfire. They love to watch the thick curling smoke and the sudden burst of flame. Their parents could learn a lot from those boxes. Houses burn the same way—at the rate of one every other minute. Sixteen people a day are turned from living beings to corpses, in the ashes of these houses. Annual property loss from dwelling fires exceeds $100,000,000. Most of this loss in life and property is attributable to ignorance and carelessness in the home.

Not long ago in Detroit two boys sharing a second floor bedroom were found dead in the upper hall by firemen responding to an alarm. Their death was wholly unnecessary. Instead of going out the open window of their bedroom, they attempted to flee down the stairs. They were met by superheated gases of 1,000 degrees flooding the upper areas of the house. They died instantly. They had never been taught that in a burning house the stairwell is usually converted into a flue. And they didn't know that when a bedroom door is hot to the touch, it's a sure sign that it's fatal to open it.

The lesson from such a tragedy is obvious. Every family should be familiar with simple precautions that safeguard life in the event of fire, and of greater importance, prevent fire from starting. Most fires break out in defective chimneys or in faulty furnaces and heating pipes. Heating systems should be cleaned and checked periodically. Basement ceilings, and walls should be protected with a double coat of high grade cement plaster on metal instead of wood lath. There should be a clearance between furnace and ceiling of at least 30 inches, with proper insulation of heat pipes which pass through wooden partitions.

While you read this article, somewhere a home was consumed by fire. Was it yours?

WHO IS PROMOTING INFLATION?

Critics of OPA price regulations are usually charged with promoting inflation. The OPA, by contrast, is pictured as a heroic agency striving to save the country. Without detracting from the merits of the OPA, it should be pointed out that such a picture is lopsided. There are plenty of people in the country who believe in the necessity of price-fixing just as sincerely as the OPA, but who are bitterly opposed to rules which they feel disrupt production and distribution, thereby indirectly promoting inflation.

Typical of OPA rulings of the disruptive character, is the one affecting low-cost wearing apparel under OPA's Highest Price Line Limitation. This ruling, by a maze of technicalities, actually prevents low-cost retailing. Following is comment on the highest price line order, from distributors over the country: a merchant from Ohio says: "The quality of children's clothes that we are permitted to sell now for the prices established by the basic period is so poor that the customer will not buy it . . . This is a waste of raw material . . ." And from Missouri: "We have not been able to get higher priced items for our trade and hence our shelves are bare. The price limitation has kept us from replenishing our stock at a higher price level, although labor and manufacturing costs have risen due to war conditions, and, since this is a farming community, all the other merchants for several miles around labor under the same shortages as we do. Young children are actually scantily clothed and badly clothed due to this condition." Another merchant from Missouri declares: "We have carried women's house dresses in low-price brackets. The quality of dresses of the same price ranges is so poor now that we have been forced to drop this line."

Who is promoting inflation, the creator of an unworkable price rule or the merchants who seek to keep the channels of distribution open and a steady flow of necessities moving to consumers?

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

E. ARNOT ROBERTSON is an attractive English woman, whose chief hobbies before the war were sailing boats and writing novels. Sailing boats are out for the duration, but Miss Robertson, in spite of her war job at the Ministry of War Information in London, still finds time for novel-writing. Her latest is "The Signpost," which has been selected for distribution by the Book-of-the-Month Club for January.

E. ARNOT ROBERTSON

The setting of "The Signpost" is a small Irish village. In this village there is a signpost, which reads, "Eighty miles to Dublin." This signpost is a symbol to the young folk who long to escape the narrowness of their environment.

Typical of these young people is Bridie, a girl whose character is portrayed with unusual poignancy and tenderness. Then there is her sweetheart, the fanatical Irish nationalist, Sean; the village priest, Father Keith, a good man and a stern man; Aunt Mary Sullivan who infinitely prefers talk to food or money; and The Gambeen, the loan shark who sits like a spider on the village web getting them all in his power.

The outside world come to this quiet village, in the person of Tom Fairburn, an RAF flier on leave, and Denyse, a Frenchwoman, wife of a French banker who had gone collaborationist. The story tells of the changes these two bring to the village when they enter into its life; and of how, in turn, their interest and sympathy in the local problems give them a new perspective on their personal difficulties.

Miss Robertson, by the way, is the author of "Four Frightened People," which you may have seen as a movie.

Louella O. Parsons in "The Gay Illiterate" relates this story of the motion picture industry's early days. In one of her first jobs as a script reader, she bought a story—for the then standard price of $25—which pleased her boss, George K. Spoor so much that he invested the superlative sum of $2,000 in its production. But shortly before its release, they were attending a preview of some pictures of a rival company, Vitagraph, and saw produced the same story—scene for scene.

The "authoress" was summoned hastily to Spoor's office. She was a sweet little old lady with a bonnet tied under her chin and an innocent smile.

"Did you sell Parsons this story," Spoor thundered at her.

"I certainly did," she said happily.

"Did you also sell it to Vitagraph?"

"Yes indeed," she admitted cheerfully.

Spoor gulped. "And where did you get this story?"

"Oh," she explained, "I copied in out of a magazine. And I have lots more if you're interested."

Heifetz To Play At S. F. Opera House

Heifetz, world-renowned violinist and one of the most beloved figures on the concert stage today, comes to the Opera House, Wednesday evening, February 16, as one of four great attractions in February.

Like so many other celebrities of today, he too, was a child prodigy. Born in Russia in 1901, he received his first lessons at the age of three and made his Russian debut at the age of seven.

It was in the early days of America's entry into World War 1 that Heifetz made his American debut in Carnegie hall, New York, and ever since that date, he has been one of America's most popular violinists. Now, with the country of his adoption again at war, he has devoted much of his time to visiting camps and hospitals with his famous fiddle.

He has made only one return visit to Russia and that was in 1934 at the invitation of the Russian government. At that time, he gave thirteen concerts in seventeen days and people traveled for miles to hear him. He has made four world tours. However, he is proud of his American citizenship which he has enjoyed for nearly twenty years. He has two homes, one in Harbor island, California, and the other an 150 year old farm in Connecticut.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the new Opera box office, Normandy lane, City of Paris, EXbrook 8585.

The other February attraction of the Opera association still to be enjoyed are Mia Slavenska and dance group which comes to the Opera house on Sunday afternoon, February 20, and Richard Crooks, famous Metropolitan tenor and William Primrose, one of the greatest violists, who will give a joint concert on Tuesday evening, February 22 (Washington's birthday).

Find Man Guilty On Weapon Charge

Upon the testimony of several witnesses at Friday's court session in the city hall, Judge William J. Sweeney found Jennings Eli Stump, 957 Mission street, San Francisco, guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. He was given the alternative of a $250 fine or 90 days in the county jail. Officers arrested him when the proprietor and customers at a local tavern noticed the man carrying a revolver and subsequent questioning revealed that he had no permit to carry a gun.

Other fines at the January 28 court session included: $25 suspended, Lee Barnett, charged with disturbing the peace at New San Francisco Auto court; $10, Connie Carlson, 134 Los Olivos avenue, violation of City Ordinance No. 209; $10, Wilfred London, 766 Brunswick street, City Ordinance No. 209; $5, Harry King, 215 Los Olivos avenue, overnight parking, 6 tags; $5, Harry D. Wolford, 215 Los Olivos avenue, overnight parking, 6 tags; $50, Hershal Crayton, Colma, drunken driving; $7.50, a San Francisco juvenile, speeding; $1, William Dogherra, Daly City, overnight parking at Vista Grande and Niantic avenues; $5, Richard Perada, standing auto in prohibited space.

Special Courses

Special ten week courses in Gregg shorthand, typing, office practice, comptometer, electric and manual office machines, bookkeeping machines, Ediphone and Dictaphone, and business English are starting this week. One should enroll at Adams Adult center, 750 Eddy street, or telephone Miss Gladys Christensen, ORdway 3545.

"Demand for persons trained in these classes is great," says Miss Christensen. "Our classes in public speaking, lip reading, and journalism are also popular. All classes are open to men and women more than 18 years of age. School opens at 8:30 a. m. and continues to 3:30 p. m. Students may take two, four or six hours of work. There is no charge for these classes because Adams Adult center is a part of the San Francisco Unified School district."

RED CROSS HELPS MEN

"Of utmost concern to the Home Service department of the American Red Cross are the needs of the disabled serviceman returned with a medical discharge," states Mrs. Barney Bristow, chairman of the San Mateo County chapter.

The sudden transition from military or naval life to that of a civilian calls for a big adjustment especially in the case of the man who has been medically discharged. And it is while he is awaiting the adjudication of his claim that he may need immediate aid.

Assistance can be obtained from the Home Service department which will supply financial and medical aid and clothes if required and will take care of claims and adjustments in addition to offering family service and acting as a channel of information and communication. Any man or woman with a medical discharge may apply if a pension is pending.

The field worker in Daly City is Mrs. Horace Fellows, and information can be obtained from her by writing to her address, 162 Vista Grande avenue, or telephoning DElaware 4123.

Serving all of San Mateo county the trained staff of this department with headquarters at 1308 Howard avenue, Burlingame, maintains a high record. During December 1458 cases were handled with the chairman and staff of 37 giving a total of 2161 hours. Recently Mrs. Bristow, chairman, in completing her second year made a record of 4,310 volunteer hours.

FASHIONS AND FOODS

Drink Your Health in A Daily Glass Of Lemon Juice and Water

By BETTY BARCLAY

"Fighter first class on the home front!" That's the name we'd like to give to the man or woman who punches the time clock on the dot every day and walks briskly into the office or factory, or gets out the tractor or the washing-machine and starts work with energy and to spare for a hard day ahead.

"U. S. needs us strong," is more than a slogan. It's a statement of a vital need. Your health and mine will play an important part in winning the war. Keeping well is the home front soldier's way of keeping fit.

Rules for Keeping Fit

Right food, sufficient rest, some exercise outdoors every day so that the body gets oxygen, cleanliness of body including proper elimination — these factors are most important in keeping well. Make sure you are getting them. They will do much to keep you fit.

At this season when colds and flu are prevalent, it is especially important to see that the body is rested, is kept at the right temperature, has the right food and maintains good elimination.

Elimination Is Important

In connection with the last suggestion, a simple home remedy comes to mind as a helpful aid. This is to drink the juice of a lemon in a glass of hot or cold water each morning on rising.

Nothing complicated about this idea. No big words on a prescription blank. It's a simple home remedy that every kitchen should be able to supply. Faithfully followed the year around, the habit of taking this drink may save you days at work and save the time of a busy doctor, who is thankful that you are not another patient.

Lemon and water is a natural mild laxative, adequate in providing all the regulation most people need. When this drink is taken every day, harsh laxatives become unnecessary. In drinking lemon and water, you know that you are taking — not a medicine — but a healthful food. Lemons are in group 2 of the Basic 7 food groups which Government authorities recommend that we eat daily.

Prevent Colds If Possible

Beside aiding elimination, lemons aid digestion, supply important vitamins and build body resistance. This fruit is one of the richest sources of vitamin C, which mitigates fatigue and helps the body resist colds and infections.

If you are taking a daily glass of lemon juice and water, you are building resistance that makes you less likely to catch cold or flu. Should one of these health saboteurs sneak up on you, however, you can call up reinforcements in the form of an extra dosing with lemon and water to help break up the condition.

At the first symptom of "sniffles", ringing ears, aching head and muscular fatigue — see that the kitchen has a supply of at least a dozen lemons.

On the first day, drink a glass of lemon and water every 2 to 3 hours. Some persons like to add ½ teaspoon baking soda (known also as bicarbonate of soda) to each glass, drinking the mixture as foaming quiets. Since this drink is taken at once, the soda does not appreciably reduce the vitamin C furnished by the lemon juice.

If you are going to bed, the drink may be made very hot. This will induce perspiration. Be sure not to get chilled at this time. If you are away from home, a soda fountain can mix lemon and water or lemon, water and soda drink for you.

While your cold lasts, continue with the lemon and water, adding soda if liked, and taking three or four times a day.

Other rules to follow are:

1. Keep warm, avoid further chill.
2. Eat lightly. Take plenty of liquids, especially citrus juices.
3. Get plenty of rest; overcome fatigue; build resistance.
4. Keep elimination regular.
5. Alkalinize your system.

In case of serious illness a physician should be called.

Smart Hostess •

SUAVE DETAIL of the "At Home" dinner gown selected by CBS singer Vera ("Fun With Dunn") Holly proves there's no priority on ingenuity. Since fabric-saving regulations permit no floor-length negligees, designers created gowns embodying the qualities of informality and easy comfort. Closing with ties at the neck and waist line, this slenderizing chartreuse crepe slip-over conceals side pockets in an ingenious joining of the bodice and skirt. (From Clothes-Horse, Inc., New York City.)

• Inter-Allied •

THE FOUR-WAY-FLYER, a whopping drawstring travel bag planned as a Clipper fashion for post-war air trips, was introduced by CBS actress Delma ("Philip Morris Playhouse") Byron at the New York preview of Ben R. Brody originals. The faille carryall, decorated with labels of the four big allies, packs the allowed poundage, is fitted with four miniature bags in pockets with zipper closings, and is easily carried over the shoulder or arm by means of long drawstring straps. A small version is called the Fly-By-Nighter.

Spring in Bloom

EXCITING as the night-blooming Cereus is the Adrian original worn by CBS star Judith ("Mrs. Miniver") Evelyn, who won a recent "best dressed woman" award. The splashy red print on white has a bolero effect front bodice, and the skirt is distinguished by a harem drape which starts at the center seam in back and continues to the front waistline. Worn with black lace-cuffed gloves and dainty head dress, the beautiful print gives a glitter-weary public one of the season's most individual after-five gowns.

Colorful Play

AN EYE FOR FIGURES is responsible for the neat play and exercise costume worn by CBS actress Louise ("Fun With Dunn") Fitch. Action-free pleats in the back of the washable cotton blouse and easy shoulder cut provide ample room for sports wear, in addition to pairing off as neatly with a skirt as with the trim tailored shorts.

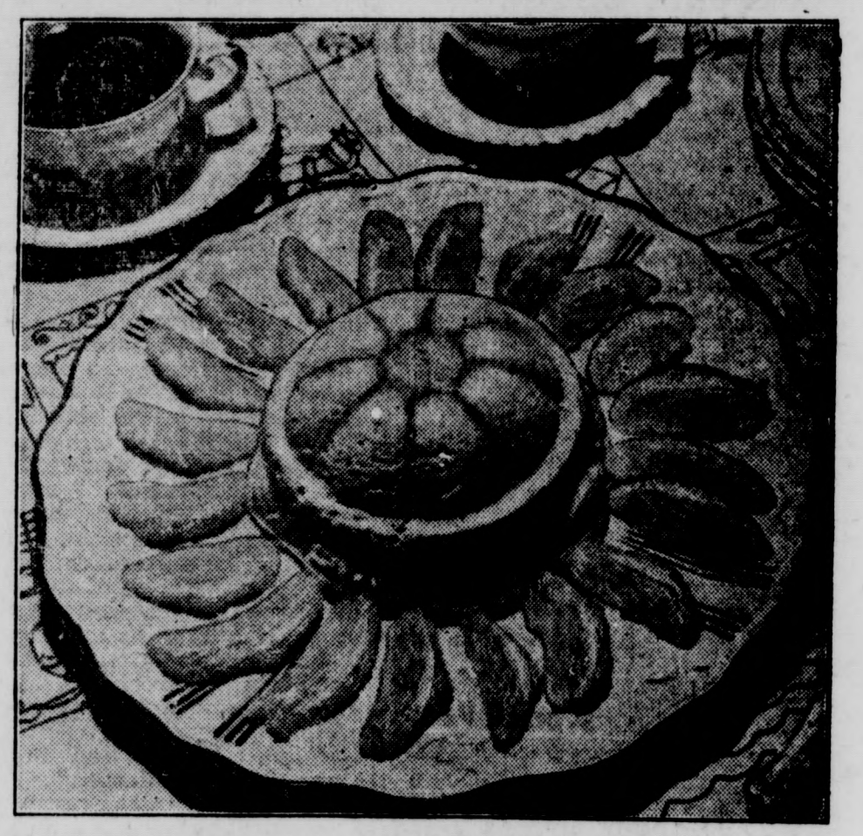
A New Flavor Combination—Coffee and Cheese



THE blending of flavorings and seasonings is a fine art that's well worth cultivating. You can become an expert with a little practice. Did you ever think of combining the flavor of coffee with cheese? This Cream Fromage proves that it's a delicious, as well as a novel idea! Try this recipe and be convinced. When Cream Fromage is served with energizing hot coffee, family and friends alike will sing the praises of your cooking ability.

Cream Fromage is distinctive in both appearance and taste. Cottage cheese, gelatin, egg, sugar and coffee blend together in a smooth delicious dessert. The orange slices are an eye-appealing addition. Serve this Cream Fromage with full strength, pure coffee and you have a combination that's hard to beat.

There's plenty of coffee now, so let's enjoy its goodness to the utmost. This is the way to make Cream Fromage:

Cream Fromage

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- ½ cup boiling water
- 2 tablespoons granulated sugar
- ¼ cup cold coffee
- 1 cup (½ lb.) cottage cheese
- 1 egg

Soften gelatin in cold water about 5 minutes. Add boiling water and sugar and stir until dissolved. Stir in coffee. Soften cottage cheese, add egg yolk and blend. Add gelatin mixture and mix well. Chill until mixture begins to set, fold in stiffly beaten egg white and chill until set. Unmold and serve with orange slices. Yield: 6 servings.

Low-Shortening Biscuits

By Frances Lee Barton

BREAD may be the staff of life, but place a plate of bread and a plate of biscuits on the table and see which disappears first. A luscious biscuit must be the flag that flies from the staff.

Low-Shortening Biscuits

2 cups sifted cake flour; 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ¾ teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons cold shortening; ½ cup plus 1 tablespoon milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut shortening in small pieces and add to flour. Cut in shortening, using pastry blender or finger tips, until mixture is as fine as meal.

Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir quickly and lightly until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently 15 minutes. Roll ⅜ inch thick. Cut with floured 1¾ inch biscuit cutter. Bake on lightly greased sheet in hot oven (450° F.) about 13 minutes. Do not over- or under-bake these biscuits. Makes 16 biscuits.

Note: For tall, soft biscuits, place close together on baking sheet; for biscuits with crusted sides, place slightly apart.

Something Good

By BETTY BARCLAY

Here is a "Star" recipe that might be called "Save Your Points Savories" but when ration days are over it can take back its maiden name "Fish Savories". It's a combination of flaked fish, egg, cereal and seasonings that will delight and surprise your guests. Be sure and try it before filing the recipe:

Fish Savories

- 3 cups Post Toasties, slightly crushed
- 1 cup flaked cooked white fish
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- ½ teaspoon scraped onion
- 1 egg, beaten with 4 tablespoons milk and dash of salt

Combine ½ Post Toasties, fish, salt, pepper, onion, and 5 tablespoons egg mixture, mixing well. Shape in 2-inch cakes. Roll in remaining flakes, then in remaining egg mixture, and roll again in flakes. Fry in skillet in small amount of fat, browning both sides. Serve with tartar sauce or lemon slices. Makes 6 small savories.

Monsignor Tozzi Issues Report

Consumers may expect lower prices for fresh fish and dry peas as a result of new regulations by the Office of Price Administration, it was announced, this week, by Monsignor Egisto Tozzi, chairman of the War Price and Rationing Board No. 83-12-3; which serves the Daly City area.

Effective January 26, dry peas, whole and split, were brought under the price regulation already controlling dry beans, Monsignor Tozzi said. He stated the result should be decreases of about 1 1-2c a pound on the whole dry peas, and about 2c a pound on the split dry peas at retail.

The local War Price and Rationing board chairman also revealed that on January 27 new OPA regulations went in effect designed to pass on to the consuming public the reductions in fresh fish and seafood prices which already have been achieved at the fishermen's level and in wholesale stages prior to retail.

Monsignor Tozzi said the new OPA schedule provided for flat, nation-wide cents - per - pound mark-ups over net cost by which retailers must determine their maximum prices for fish. Prices will be reduced to approximately 1942 retail averages under the new set-up.

Another announcement by Monsignor Tozzi disclosed that consumers will begin to receive tokens in change from food retailers on February 27. On that date red and blue stamps will become valid for ten points each. Monsignor Tozzi said that the tokens will be issued to consumers only as change for purchases made with stamps, and that unlike the stamps, the tokens will have no expiration dates.

At a hearing held by the hearing panel of the local board of OPA, Tuesday, January 18, 1944, the following suspensions and penalties were imposed:

John J. Gil, 105 MacDonald avenue, San Francisco, had his "A" book suspended for 30 days, because of going 60 miles per hour on the Bayshore highway. Thomas Emmett Colyer, 564 Bellevue avenue, Daly City, had his "A" book suspended for 60 days for two violations, driving 55 miles per hour, and misuse of 2 No. 10 coupons. Vay Bob Teague, 1150 Humboldt street, Brisbane, surrendered 5 coupons for driving 48 miles per hour on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge. Max Goldstein, 438 Evergreen avenue, Daly City, surrendered 4 coupons for having driven his car 50 miles per hour in Shasta county.

BOND DRIVE

strokes in which each blow supports another, sometimes in a far distant area. In recent months the current of the war has run ever stronger in our favor. The Japanese threat on our northern flank ceased to exist when the enemy was driven from Attu and Kiska.

"We now have strong positions in the Western Aleutians. Our forces from those bases have already begun to feel out the enemy in the Kuriles. The Japanese realize that not only are their principal fishing areas in danger but also that their whole northern defense flank is menaced in those foggy and stormy waters.

"In the South Pacific and Southwest Pacific, Halsey and McArthur have joined hands in mutual support and are driving the Japs steadily from strongly held positions in the Solomons and New Guinea. In the meantime, the Navy is protecting seaborne traffic necessary to supply our troops in the Western Pacific. Lately it has been possible to intensify Naval attacks on the key Japanese strongholds of Rabaul and Kaveang. Carrier task forces approach those centers of land-based air power and have sent home devastating blows.

"In the Central Pacific, capture of the Gilbert Islands was a strategically important victory quickly won and at a cost of life apparently large but small relatively. The Japs lost four men to our one. And these stepping stones to the Japanese empire are already being used as bases to launch air attacks against the Marshall Islands.

"Carrier planes and Army bombers have struck ceaselessly in the Marshalls and will continue to bombard the enemy until its positions are no longer tenable. To cover these attacks the enemy is forced to reduce his strength in New Guinea and the Solomons, thus illustrating the coordination and efforts among areas. Another important phase of the Pacific naval war is the ceaseless patrol of enemy waters by our intrepid submarines. They are penetrating Japanese interseas to strike her life lines. Their heroic work is doing much to foil the Japanese threat of exploiting her conquests.

"Thus pressure is constantly being increased upon the citadels of Japan's strength. Thus closely related defenses and widely separated areas are being conducted to overthrow the barbarous despotism masking as Japan's New Order. The Japs are thoroughly entrenched in the island archipelago that remains to them in the Pacific. They are a vicious and resourceful foe but we will smoke them out at times and places chosen by ourselves. All services in this theatre are working together with singleness of purpose and unity of execution.

"The triple elements of land, sea and air power are fused into a deadly and disciplined fighting team. Carrying the fighting to our enemy in these ocean areas involves long distances over which we must continuously send supplies and we cannot win unless our fighting forces receive prompt and adequate logistic support. To sustain this offensive, a high level of production in the shipyards, in the factory, and on the farms at home is vitally necessary. We must have the cargoes and the ships to bring them.

"To guarantee our success requires our continued and unsparing purchase of War Bonds. Let us continue to support our war effort with our fighting dollars."

Practically Everyone Must File By March 15

Even though they filed declaration of estimated tax in September or December, the following persons in general must file income tax returns on or before, March 15:

1. Every single person whose gross income in 1943 was $500 or more.
2. Every individual married person whose gross income was more than $624.
3. Every married couple whose combined gross income was $1,200 or more.
4. Every person who paid or owed a tax on 1942 income.

Excepted from filing on March 15 are servicemen and others outside the country, and wives of servicemen outside the country if the wife's own income is less than $1,200.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue advises all persons to file their returns early to determine how they stand. Many people will be about even with the government, a number of people will find they have a sizeable payment to make, and still others will discover that the government owes them money.

Deputies will be on hand to assist local people with their tax problems at the Daly City branch, Bank of America, February 29, March 1, 2, and 3, and at the Colma branch, Bank of America, February 25, 26, 28 during regular banking hours.

Turkey Fish Is Real "Old Timer" tained from the Fiji islands in 1932, the California Academy of Sciences reports.

Other early residents of the aquarium which are still alive and healthy, are eleven morays or sea eels which were among the original residents when the aquarium opened in 1923, and a hawks-bill turtle, presented by the late Commander John H. Blackburn, U. S. N., in December 1924.

According to Dr. Robert E. Miller, director of the Academy of Sciences, nearly eighteen million visitors have watched the tropical fish in the two decades since the aquarium opened.

Four WACs Make Pledge

"All-out war effort until final victory" is the pledge of the four WACs shown in the photograph above, who are assigned to recruiting duty at San Francisco Recruiting and Induction headquarters at 444 Market street in San Francisco. Each of these patriotic young women in addition to their daily duties as recruiters for the Women's Army Corps have taken on the task of volunteer Nurses' Aide for the American Red Cross. In their hours off duty they serve in hospitals in and about San Francisco. Namely, they are Staff Sergeant Helen B. Young and Corporal Doris Davis, wearing the Nurses' Aide Uniform, and Sergeant Esther Inkelas and Corporal Miriam Feathers. Nurses' Aide program offers patriotic women a great opportunity to serve their country in time of great need. For enlistment in the WAC call your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting station.

RATIONING NEWS FOR LOCAL HOUSEWIVES

The spring of the year should find a little added bounce in some of the upholstered furniture on the market. That's because the War Production Board has authorized manufacturers to use a limited quantity of steel springs to augment the wooden springs and various types of padding used in recent months for upholstered furniture. When this limited amount of steel spring filled items comes to market in a few months, they'll be under price control. Manufacturers who sold this type of furniture during March, 1942, must not exceed the maximum prices formerly established.

As soon as housewives are ready to start their 1944 home canning program, they'll be able to use sugar stamp number 40 in War Ration Book Four for this purpose. It will be valid for 13 months, and it will be the only stamp validated for sugar used in canning. However, those housewives who wish to can and preserve more fruit than can be put up with the five pounds per person allotment of stamp 40 may make applications to their local boards later when they need additional sugar for this purpose.

Soup's on—and if it's split pea soup—it soon will be costing less. The reason is that the Office of Price Administration has brought dry peas—whole and split—under price control. This means a slight reduction as retailers get in new supplies.

This month's meats and fats point chart has its downs as well as ups. Although meats and cheeses generally showed an upward movement in point value, most canned fish, including tuna and salmon, was cut by 4 points a pound. Only oysters remained unchanged in point value, still selling at 4 points per pound.

"Endorsement protects you and helps lick the black market" is the message of a special insert which local war price and rationing boards will place in newly-issued gasoline ration books. You endorse your gasoline coupons for the same reason as you endorse a check—for your protection since only the car for which the ration was issued can receive the gas. Furthermore, unendorsed coupons are invalid. So, if you haven't already done so, immediately write in ink or indelible pencil your car license number and the state of registration on the face of every coupon.

When the new ration token program goes into effect, February 27, the color of ration stamps will go back to red for meats and fats and to blue for processed foods. Green stamps K, L, and M in War Book Four—which are the last of the green stamps for the time being—will be good for processed foods until March 20 at their 8, 5, 2 and 1 values, and tokens will be given in change for these stamps on and after February 27. Brown stamps V and W, both valid at the present time, and the brown X stamps, which will be validated on February 6, will be good until February 26. Y, to be validated on February 13, and Z which becomes good on February 20, will be good until March 20 at their 8, 5, 2 and 1 values. Tokens will be given in change for these also on and after February 27.

February 5 is the final day of clearance of "OPA release women's low-priced shoes" without ration stamps. Some dealers already have exceeded their quota of certain types of slow moving stocks, chiefly novelty shoes — being allowed to clear ration free up to 15 per cent of their September 30 inventory of women's shoes as long as the selling price is not more than $3.

Senior Wardens Hear A. J. Bodien

Arthur J. Bodien, director of the Daly City Civilian War Council, was principal speaker at the Friday evening, January 28, meeting of the Senior Air Raid Wardens. Those present report that he gave a very interesting talk on the possibility of a post-war protective group to which present civilian defense volunteers could bring their invaluable training. It would be something like the Disaster Preparedness committee which this community had before the war.

In the absence of Chief Air Raid Warden Harry Melicker, C. E. Dotson conducted the meeting. Seven sectors were represented.

All senior wardens and wardens are invited to assist with turning out articles for the Junior Red Cross under the supervision of R. L. Crane jr. Several work sessions have already been held, this week, and on Saturday and Sunday, February 5 and 6, the men are invited to come to Crane's residence, 140 Woodrow street, any time during the day or evening to assist.

Senior Wardens were asked to see that those under their jurisdiction turn in the new personnel records required if the volunteer is to receive compensation in the event of injury.

Next meeting of the Senior Air Raid Wardens will be held, Friday, February 25, 8 p. m., at the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

American Red Cross Aids Victims Of War In Thirty Nations

In the four years since the start of the war in Europe, 35 million war victims in thirty nations have benefited by aid extended by and through the American Red Cross. Details of this program are contained in a recent statement issued by Red Cross National headquarters in Washington, and provide a comprehensive view of the organization's widespread wartime relief activities.

Of the $80,000,000 thus furnished since the war began, about half represents relief extended in the form of government-provided supplies channelled through the American Red Cross. From the Red Cross' own treasury, funds totalling more than $18,000,000, and articles of wearing apparel, convenience, and comfort (produced in the 3,756 Red Cross chapters throughout the United States) valued at nearly $20,000,000, went for the same purpose. And this, despite difficulties in transportation and in procuring the necessary supplies, the changing situation due to our entry into the war and numerous other obstacles which had to be overcome.

"The steady flow of relief supplies to war victims in the United Nations continues," said Chairman Norman H. Davis of the American Red Cross. "We were ably assisted by three million volunteer workers in those nations in carrying out this program."

"Date Conscious"? You'd Better Be--

Here is a list of those ration dates, which make calendar-watchers of all local housewives, motorists, or, in fact, anyone who wishes to eat, drive his car, or buy an occasional pair of shoes.

October 31—shoe stamp 18 (in War Ration Book One) was to have expired but OPA extends expiration date indefinitely.

November 1—Book Three "airplane" series stamp No. 1 became valid; good for one pair of shoes until further notice.

January 1, 1944—green stamps G, H, and J (Book Four) became valid for purchase of processed foods.

January 16—sugar stamp No. 30 in War Ration Book Four became valid and will be good for buying 5 pounds of sugar through the end of March.

January 22—A gasoline coupons became valid, good through March 21.

January 23, 1944 — brown stamps V became valid (Book Three) for meats, etc.

January 29, 1944—brown stamps R, S, T, and U expired.

January 30, 1944 — brown stamps W became valid for meats, etc. (Book Three).

February 1—green stamps K, L, M, good for purchase of processed foods became valid, will be good through March 20 (Book Four).

February 6, 1944 — brown stamps X become valid (Book Three).

February 13, 1944—brown stamps Y become valid to use in purchase of meats, etc. (Book Three).

February 20, 1944—brown stamps Z become valid (Book Three).

February 20, 1944—green stamps G, H, and J (Book Four) for buying processed foods expire.

February 26, 1944—brown stamps V, W, and X expire.

February 27—begin use of red and blue rationing tokens for change.

February 27—blue stamps A, B, C, D, E (Book Four) to be used with ration tokens come into use for processed foods.

February 27—red stamps A, B, C, (10 point value each) in Book Four become valid, good through May 20 for meats, fats, cheese, butter.

February 29, 1944—deadline for inspection of tires for B gasoline book holders.

March 20, 1944—brown stamps Y and Z (Book Three) expire.

March 20—green stamps K, L, M, Book Four, for processed foods. expire.

March 21—gasoline coupons A No. 10 expire.

March 30, 1944—deadline for inspection of tires for A book holders.

March 31—sugar stamp No. 30 for 5 pounds of sugar expires March 31.

30 DAYS' NOTICE ON STAMP 18

The public will be given 30 days' notice, should it become necessary to terminate Shoe Ration Stamp 18. This announcement was made recently by OPA to "kill" scare-buying rumors that the validity period of Stamp 18 might be cancelled with only 24 hours' notice to consumers.

BROWN POINTS FOR WASTE FATS

For every pound of fat a housewife turns in to her meat dealer or other fat salvager, she receives two meat points, beginning December 13. "But most important," Herbert M. Faust, director of WPB's Salvage division said, "within a month the fat will be transformed into war materials and on the way to the fighting fronts." He reminded housewives to save the grease from turkeys, geese, ducks, and chickens, for the manufacture of war products.

CANNING SUGAR

• Patriotic Togs

BLUE DENIM took a CBS audience by storm when Kaye Larsen, an eager war worker, rushed from her factory job to appear with "Major Bowes' Amateurs." The uniform worn by women making precision instruments may well be copied by Victory gardeners this spring. Deep pockets conceal the side closing of the romper-like seat.

NOW AVAILABLE

Housewives may now get 5 pounds of canning sugar by using Stamp No. 40 in War Ration Book Four, OPA has announced, and additional canning sugar later will be available on application to local boards. Stamp No. 40 will be good 13 months, through February 28, 1945.

Fudge Without Cooking

By Frances Lee Barton

IS there a "good candy" shortage in your neighborhood? "Lucky you", if there isn't! But anyway, good home-made fudge is always appreciated and particularly during these hectic days. Here's a recipe for such a delicacy that may be made without cooking. Try it!

Uncooked Fudge

4 squares unsweetened chocolate; 3 tablespoons butter or margarine; 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; ⅓ cup hot milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Melt chocolate and butter over boiling water. Remove from heat. Combine remaining ingredients and mix well. Add chocolate mixture and stir until blended. Spread in greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan. Chill in refrigerator or let stand at room temperature for several hours, or until firm.

Note: If desired, ½ to ⅔ cup chopped nut meats may be added before turning into pan.

★ This Week's STAR RECIPE

By BETTY BARCLAY

This week's "Star" recipe is a regular war-time recipe for it describes a hot, healthful and delicious dish that calls for practically no precious ration points. Try it once and it will be a "regular" on your table:

Corn En Casserole

2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1¼ cups milk
1½ cups Bran flakes, finely crushed
2 cups canned whole kernel corn, drained
1 egg, well beaten

Place green pepper, onion, and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan and cook gently until tender. Add flour and seasonings and stir until smooth. Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add ¾ cup flakes, corn, and egg. Turn into greased 1½ quart casserole. Melt remaining 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and pour over remaining ¾ cup flakes. Toss lightly to mix. Sprinkle over top of corn. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

CYPRESS CIRCLE

Cypress Circle No. 14, U. A. O. D., will hold a social, Wednesday evening, February 9, at Colma Community Center building, Dunks street, starting at 8 o'clock.

Ladies Home Club Postpones Whist

Mrs. Edward Mooney, president of the Ladies Home club, announced today that due to Washington's birthday falling on the fourth Tuesday of the month, the whist party given by the club will not be held until Tuesday, February 29. It will be at 2 p. m. at the Werner Avenue clubhouse. The public is asked to note the change of date.

For their second Tuesday meeting, February 8, the club will have a Valentine luncheon at 12:30 followed by their regular meeting, at the clubhouse. Party arrangements are in the hands of Mrs. Josie Nava and Mrs. Anita Degliantoni.

AT JEFFERSON

Last Friday the weekly spelling match between the A and B teams of the Jefferson elementary eighth grades culminated in the final spelling match of this term. Clara Zanobini outspelled every one in the room, Alvina Feno was a close second. Of the low eighth grade pupils Mary Ann Bartels stood up the longest.

Every child in the school participated in the March of Dimes. Dimes and larger coins dropped in the Wishing Well to the tune of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" brought in a generous sum to aid in the nation-wide fight against infantile paralysis.

Bank Day receipts in the seventh grade were boosted by the sale of two War Bonds; a $50 bond purchased by Bob Donahue and a $25 bond purchased by Ray Settrini. Both boys earned the money that they invested in War Bonds. Many other children in the seventh grade and throughout the school are planning to purchase war bonds from the Bond Wagon, Friday, February 11.

The story of writing is providing another opportunity for the fifth graders to combine their social science lessons with art. In connection with their study of the beginning of early picture forms of writing, the children made up simple picture writing sentences that showed considerable ingenuity and artistic ability.

The third and fourth grades had an equally enjoyable combination of language, social science and art by writing a cooperative story about the "Life and Habits of Elephants in the Jungle."

The fourth grade has another pupil hailing from Oklahoma. He is Randolph Joseph Ross, whose father was a professor of chemistry in the Oklahoma university.

The second and third grade children are working on a "Little Heart-Men" border to be used as a room decoration on St. Valentine's day. In connection with their unit, the class dramatized a story about fire that their teacher had read to them. The children volunteered for their parts and reenacted the story using their own words.

The first graders also had a particularly gratifying dramatization of the "Musicians of Bremen," during their story period. This tale is always a favorite because it affords unlimited opportunities of expression to every child in the room.

AT CROCKER

The pupils of Room 2 at Crocker school were happy when they learned that their room had brought in the most tin during the tin drive.

This week the members of Room 3 made a fine record on their citizenship chart. Almost everyone earned a flag, while only a few students received stars.

The children of Room 4 are discovering many interesting new facts about "The Americas." To conclude this unit the pupils are giving short talks on various information relating to the countries of America.

Interesting reports were made in Room 6 during the reading period on "Things We Write With." Pupils had made scrolls, their own ink and pens, and with these had written their stories which were read and discussed in class.

AT WOODROW

Last week the low eighth grade pupils welcomed Carl Anderson to their class.

Alex Sola, Room 4, attended the military exhibition held at the Civic auditorium. He related the interesting features to the class.

Richard Hoerner, low seventh grade, bought two $25 War Bonds in the last two weeks.

Last week, Barbara Biagini and Jack Hicks in Room 9, each purchased a $25 War Bond. The room hopes to have a bond purchase each week by one member of the class.

The high fifth and low sixth grades have been studying the people of the Mediterranean lands, their geographic conditions, homes and products from a series of slides.

The children of the fifth grade were sorry to hear that Betty Jean and Harold Cherry have the flu.

Bobby Chastain and Madeline Moltzer are two new pupils in the fourth grade.

JUNIOR NATURALISTS

At the last meeting of the Junior Naturalist society a party was planned for Don Nelson, graduating member of the club. As entertainment the club has decided to go roller skating at the Peninsula rink, Saturday night, February 5. After skating, the members will be served refreshments at the home of Beverly Clement. Refreshments will consist of sandwiches, cake, and soft drinks furnished by members of the club.

The next day, February 6, the club is planning a field trip to Lake Merced.

Le Anna Hilbish is being proposed as a new member. Harlan Kinsey attended his first meeting last week.

J. N. S. pins for members have been ordered.

NEW BOOKS

A variety of new books has been added to the Jefferson library and more are coming in each week. The new additions are: "California Missions," by Hildegarde Hawthorne, granddaughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne; "Understanding Myself," by Roy E. Dickerson, for developing one's personality; "The Black Tanker," by Howard Pease; "Safari," a saga of the African blue, by Martin Johnson, his own story of four years the Johnsons spent at Lake Paradise in wildest Africa; "Trans-Atlantic Pilot," by Frederic Nelson Litten, thrilling adventure story of a trans-atlantic pilot in the North Atlantic.

For those who want to know about a part of world of special importance and interest, there's "Greenland," by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the story of a new American outpost of defense which is also one of the oldest civilized lands in the western hemisphere, with a rich historical past of its own.

ARCHERY

The first round of archery was played off last week with the following people in the lead: Nancy Borg, first; Beverly Clement, second; Alice D'Isep, third.

Each participant shot 3 ends at 40 yards; 6 ends at 30 yards; and 9 ends at 20 yards. An "end" means that six arrows were shot.

OUTSTANDING ATHLETES

This week, Louise Baccocio and Bill Freeman, on the recommendation of the boys' and girls' coaches, were selected as the outstanding athletes of the past year.

The two former students will have their names inscribed on the cups in the showcase that is in the gym.

This award has been traditional in Jefferson's history for several years.

ASSEMBLY

The "Truth or Consequences" show was a success, Monday, January 17, thanks to Louise Terry and Elsie Belli, mistresses of ceremonies.

Participants were chosen from the student body audience. Those selected were: Ernie Day, Bob Olson, Corinne Cuneo, Bob Plyer, Walter Hughes, and Evelyn Brisno.

Ken Hatt and Ken Martin were gag men.

MUSIC

On Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, A. Hansen presents a record program of music in Room 14.

The program is open to all music students and others who secure Hansen's permission to attend.

Classical as well as other good music comprises the program furnished from the teacher's private music library.

SENIOR BALL

The senior ball, which was held Friday, January 28, was classed as a "success" thanks to Metha Woods, chairman and her committee.

The music was furnished by the "Indians of Rhythm" under the direction of Howard B. Miguel.

During the course of the evening songs were dedicated to graduating seniors.

The graduates were led in the traditional grand march by Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson.

A United Nations theme was carried out in the decorations with flags of different nations placed around the walls with the American flag on the stage background. The rest of the decorations were red, white, and blue.

A large crowd was in attendance, including parents of the graduating seniors.

BLOCK "J"

Officers for the girls' Block "J" have been elected for next term. Vivian Thorsen was elected president; Violet Sharp, vice-president; Augusta Cattaneo, secretary-treasurer.

The society consists of ten members, five of whom are graduating this term.

HELPING OUT

A total of $40 was collected for the "March of Dimes" at Jefferson, this week.

Those who contributed toward this drive were admitted to an assembly of two pictures, "Honesty Pays, But Not Very Much," with Shelton and Howard, and another film featuring name bands.

Half of this money will stay in San Mateo county and the other half will go to Washington, D. C., headquarters.

For Unexpected Company

By Frances Lee Barton

HAVE you ever had friends who "dropped in" for dinner when you had contemplated a "pick-up" family meal?

Or friends who came for an evening of Bridge — or perhaps for a good old - fashioned chat?

It's nice to have a tasty bite prepared, or one that may be whipped into shape in a jiffy. That's why this little recipe is presented for your "unexpected company":

Vanilla Cherry Tarts

1 recipe prepared vanilla pudding; 6 baked tart shells; maraschino cherries.

Prepare vanilla pudding as directed on package. Cool. Fill tart shells and garnish with maraschino cherries.

Famous Italian Bareback Riders In Folies Bergere

Each of the daredevil Cristianis, famous Italian horseback riding family, has his own specialty in the family's spectacular bareback riding act which thrills Folies Bergere audiences nightly at Winterland, in San Francisco.

Lucio's famous backward somersault and full twist from the back of one running horse to another is well known to acrobats all over the world as the "suicide trick." Perfect timing is necessary for successful completion of the trick, and Lucio says he never sees the back of the second horse until the split second before he lands on its back.

Belmonte holds a stick in his hands and jumps over it, meanwhile keeping his balance on the back of the moving horse. The younger brothers, Mogador and Paraito, provide thrills by jumping through hoops, doing push-ups on a running horse's back, and jumping from the horse and doing three backward somersaults across the ring!

The older brothers, Oscar and Daviso, are key men in the family's "mass mounting" trick when five of the Cristianis, moving as one man, fly through the air and land astride the back of Polo, the family's 26 year old horse.

"Papa" Cristiani is ringmaster for the colorful troupe, and June, Ortans and Carcaita perform daring dance figures and hand stands on horseback throughout the act.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued, last week, in San Mateo county, to Frank Pelletier jr., San Francisco, and Doris Mary DeVincenzi, Daly City.

LIP READING

A new class in lip reading will start at Adams Adult center, Eddy street near Van Ness avenue, San Francisco, on February 7 at 1 p. m. and at the Evening High School of Commerce, Van Ness and Fell, at 7 p. m. under the direction of Hilda M. Forsgrene.

Both classes are free to persons 18 years of age or over.

County Health Dept. Releases Bulletin

According to the bulletin of the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare for the week ending, January 22, there were two cases of chicken-pox and one of scarlet fever in Daly City.

In the same health division report, Dr. Charles C. Gans, director, asked support for the current March of Dimes. He pointed out that fifty residents of the county were victims of poliomyelitis during the year 1943.

"Each of these friends and neighbors of yours was helped directly or indirectly by the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis," Gans said. "Contribute to the March of Dimes—it is worthy of your support."

OKAY, IT'S WAR!

We know that prices are high, selection is limited, general quality isn't too good, ration stamps are a nuisance—and all the rest.

And you can add some of OUR troubles to YOUR list; help gets more scarce, buying is more difficult, regulations become more strangling every day.

BUT--

Westlake customers are feeling the "rigors of war" less than most folks, because we make an especial effort to see that they are protected.

Extra care on our part assures them of the best that is on today's market, at competitively low prices. Plus the personal, friendly interest that neighborly store can give in solving today's problems.

FARMERS MEAT COMPANY

MAKE IT EASY FOR YOURSELF!

Remember the days before rationing? All you needed to know was the price of meat, and whether or not you had enough money to buy what you wanted. Then came the meat shortage, and some days you stood in line for hours, only to find everything sold out when it came your turn.

Next you were given an allotment of ration stamps which had to be turned in on meat purchases. But still the dealers' supplies were short, quality was doubtful, prices went up and up, and you had to take what you could get.

But that's ALL changed now—at least, if you shop at the Farmer's Meat Company store.

For we're on a strictly "quality meat, low price, cheerful service" basis. We again offer you a wide choice in meats of the high quality upon which we built this business, and at prices competitively low. Our friendly, helpful service will do much to take the "sting" out of your food rationing problems.
